an talla solais (Ullapool Visual Arts) is a charity
registered in Scotland, no SC040348

an talla solais is now based in Ullapool's old Medical Centre. Much work has been done to bring the building to life and transform it into a space fit for purpose. We have great plans for an talla solais, and depend on the support of our members and the public to help us put them into action.

The Gallery space (formerly the patient waiting room) has become a beautiful blank canvas with new walls and lighting. Throughout the year we show work by local, Scottish and international artists, with the aim of enabling our audience to experience a wide a range of art. We run a variety of unusual workshops and events to introduce people to the visual arts, and encourage them to develop their experience.

Individual studios are let to local artists on both long and short term leases. Group studios are available for classes and workshops.
